

Marcuetta Sims, Ph.D.

Licensed Psychologist

Dr. Marcuetta Sims is a licensed psychologist in the state of Georgia and joined the CPS staff in January of 2017. Dr. Sims has a wide array of clinical experiences that include providing individual, couples, and group counseling as well as administering, scoring and interpreting psychodiagnostic assessments in community, private practice, and university counseling center settings. She earned her Bachelor's degree in Psychology and Theatre with a concentration in Dance from Spelman College in Atlanta, GA. She went on to earn her Master's and Doctorate degrees in Counseling and Student Personnel Psychology from the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities. Dr. Sims completed her pre-doctoral internship at Duke University and prior to coming to CPS worked as a contract therapist at Emory University. Her clinical interests include providing counseling from a multicultural lens to survivors of trauma, late adolescents, early adults, and individuals seeking to develop their resiliency and live a more fulfilled life. She is passionate about diversity, advocacy, and social justice. She is an active member of the American Psychological Association and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. In her free time, Dr. Sims enjoys yoga, dancing, knitting, crocheting, reading fiction, volunteering in the community, and spending time with loved ones.