

Carrie Olsen, LMSW

Case Manager

Licensed Master Social Worker

Carrie Olsen earned her her Master's degree in Social Work from Kennesaw State University and her BA in Psychology from Auburn University. She completed clinical internships with the Women's Resource Center and Counseling & Psychological Services at KSU before becoming a Licensed Master Social Worker. She currently works as a Clinical Case Manager with Counseling & Psychological Services, where she provides case management, individual, and group counseling. Her professional interests include working with young adults, mood disorders, homelessness and food insecurity, disordered eating, and life transitions. Her favorite leisure activities include cooking, traveling, and any activity spent on the water.